

Start the school year off right with the protection you need.

We've got you covered in the car, at home and in the classroom. Let us show you how.

If you are like many teachers, you will spend about $400 this year of your own money for classroom supplies. We know that you are making an investment for your students and want to do our part to protect you. That is why California Casualty, your CTA endorsed auto and home insurance program, provides coverage for your educational materials that are in the classroom or left in your car—at no additional cost to you.

Give us a call today for a quick and easy policy review. Start the year off right by choosing an auto and home insurance company that understands your unique needs and has been serving the education community for nearly 60 years. You could save money and improve your coverage without sacrificing the level of service you deserve.

"The process was easy and the savings were incredible! I switched my home and auto and saved over $600 a year." - Ron Currie
